

10 Top Tips

1. Celebrate diversity by working with and acknowledging the strengths and positive contributions that different learners bring to the classroom
2. Ensure that the learning outcomes are clear and can be easily understood by all
3. Always link the subject matter and the learning to something that the learners already know about and understand
4. Remove clutter and confusion that detracts from learning
5. Ensure that your planning includes support and scaffolding for any skills or sub skills that are required by the learner during the training/lesson
6. Take account of the learning needs and plan differentiated approaches that enables all learners to participate in the lesson/training and learn
7. Ensure that all accessibility and access needs have been met
8. Assess for learning throughout the lesson/training
9. Ensure that there is high interest learning using multi-sensory approaches and flexible learning options
10. Make provision for the learner voice